EDITOR'S NOTE

On behalf of the Editorial team, we are delighted to announce the inaugural publication of TPB's newsletter "The Planters". After TPB's Transformation Programme was conducted last year at the Albukhary International University, it was becoming clear that an organisation with such determination needed help with echoing its vision and mission to each of its valuable contributors, the employees. We think this would be the ideal vehicle to capture the diverse and vibrant stories of TPB community and decided that the newsletter should be published every two to three months.

Now, with much gratitude, we would like to thank our writers for throwing in on us and to you, our first readers, for making it all real. If you have any feedback, interested to contribute an article or if you have any event you'd like to announce or to be featured here, do drop us an email at corpcom@tpb.com.my.

CEO's Foreword

Dearest Colleagues,

Welcome to the first issue of "The Planters" It has been a challenging year for Tradewinds Plantation Berhad, as we navigate the company through global economic slump and depressed commodity prices. Nevertheless, we are comforted that our production had increased tremendously, to levels never seen before in the history of the Company. We are seeing the fruits of the Transformation Program, which had breathed new life into the Company. We had seen the formation of plantations operations, which has been divided into Peninsular Malaysia and East Malaysia. With these formations, we strive to achieve operational excellence through capable leaders that have been tasked to achieve our goals.

2015 also proved to be a defining year for the Company. With only a few days left towards reaching the year-end, we were triumphant, having breached 20 mt/ha of FFB production for the first time ever in our history. This is proof of your hard work and dedication

And at the dawn of the new year, a new department was born – Corporate Communications. It is our dream and our vision to get TPB talking about things that matter – our industry, our country, our people, our common hopes and dreams, share stories of triumphs and comfort and support when we need it. Universally, we are the same as we breathe the same air, we understand joy and sorrow and we all want a better future for our children and ourselves. We want to be part of something greater than ourselves. It does not matter whether you are the CEO or a harvester, we are a family. And family needs to communicate to bond and be strong.

Indeed, there is so much more to do to become "the global leader in integrated agribusiness" but we shall not give up and will continue to make more significant progresses in 2016. With the Communications department as our additional family member, they could provide us the extra support to turn our ambitions into a reality.

Our TPB (Togetherness Plan for Bonding) for TPB (Tradewinds Plantation Berhad) is new but our goals are bold and exciting. Watch out for changes to come because we want to get to know you better. Allow us to share your story with the rest of us because each and every one of us is a major component of the bigger picture.

As we step into 2016, we hope you will continue to strive in continuing our mission with renewed strength to achieve our visions. With that, we look forward to seeing more of you soon!

Warmest Regards,

Thomas Ong

Transformations for Tradewinds Plantation Berhad and Mardec Berhad

The Transformation Program took place on 4-14 June 2015 in Albukhary International University, Alor Setar, Kedah.

- BUSINESS TRANSFORMATION: A process of profound and radical change that orients an organisation in a new direction and takes it to an entirely different level of effectiveness. (Source: BusinessDictionary.com)
- With every passing second, the Company continues to surge ahead in its business transformation roadmap which was laid out in early 2015 towards becoming "the global leader in integrated agribusiness", guided by five core values; Lean and mean is the new way of doing things, lean in team structure and expenditure, mean in productivity and upholding integrity.
- In June 2015, to spark the drive towards transformation amongst the operations personnel, the company held a ten-day TPB Culture Transformation Conference in Albukhary International University which was attended by all Heads of Strategic Business

Unit, Estate Managers and Assistant Managers.

In a move to empower the operations team and sustain the momentum of transformation, July 2015 saw the Company's plantation operations divided into East Malaysia and Peninsular Malaysia regions, each headed by a Director of Plantation and supported by a team of Senior Vice Presidents and Vice Presidents.

The workshop aims to:

- Shape the working culture back to basics
- Drive TPB to greater heights
- Steer transformation towards one vision
- Address the importance of speed and precision in project execution
- Boost team spirit
- Emphasize the accountability and responsibility amongst employees
- Strive towards making TPB an excellent organisation, second to none

The workshop was coordinated by our very own Transformation Committee who were made up of Head of Departments, Advisors, Directors of Plantation and the CEO.

A conference of Transformation Program was held from 11-13 September 2015 at Mardec head office to cascade down the transformation program initiatives to the management of Mardec rubber processing and rubber manufacturing factories, the key driver and enabler of Mardec's transformation initiatives. It was also aimed at strengthening employee relations with Mardec.

Attended by General Managers, Managers and Assistant Managers, the program encouraged participants to take part in contributing fresh ideas on how to drive Mardec to the next level.

In order to achieve an effective transformation, the company also needs a strong and committed top team as they are a valuable asset to the organisation. Highlights by CEO, Dato' Dr Thomas Ong:

- Mardec is soon to be #1 quality rubber producer in the world
- Mardec must control the upstream sector
- Mardec is to have a complete supply chain from upstream to consumer
- Mardec is to strengthen employee relations with the company
- Mardec must embark upon the charitable journey of Albukhary Foundation

Getting a Fresh Start: Moving to a New Place

The previous office was located at Jalan Kerja Ayer Lama in Ampang from April 2014 till August 2015. Having all furniture and documents moved to a new location, which is Jalan Pahang Barat, Kuala Lumpur, was a lot of work. Each division only had one day to pack up everything to have it all moved to a new premise the next day, while unloading them just a day after. Despite the short amount of time, it was worth it.

The relocation exercise was not just about loading and unloading the files and furniture, but we pack up along a new motivation. As the organisation is in the midst of transforming its working culture, the relocation gives us a new look and feel to how we do business.

The move involved nearly 100 employees from all departments. The first group to move from Jalan Kerja Ayer Lama office were departments of Human Resources, Foreign Labour Centre, and CEO's Office where they resumed operation on July 27, 2015. Followed by Finance, Marketing, Project & Contract Management, Procurement & Special Projects, and the server room. They resumed operation on August 17, 2015. A week later the Legal and Secretarial, Information Technology, Internal Audit, and Engineering started to move in. The new office address is available on the website www.tpb.com.my.

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

As the saying goes...

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy".

This expression means that people need time off from working, which without it, they will become bored and lack of interest and enthusiasm. So we don't want that to happen to us, now do we? To make working environment and bonding more fun, TPB Headquarters will be organising several activities throughout the year. And start it off, we had our first outing to climb up Bukit Tabur in Taman Melawati, Kuala Lumpur.

The trip was help on January 23rd, 2016 joined by more or less a dozen of its staff and staff of Albukhary Foundation as well as four of their scholars from Asia Pacific University. Hiking started at 5 o'clock in the morning from the west side and we reached the peak around half past 6, which was just the right time to catch the sunrise. Climbing up was undeniably challenging because of the steep and rocky terrain.

Bukit Tabur is a hill located in Taman Melawati and is part of the Klang Gates Quartz Ridge. It is less than 500 metres above sea level. We had the opportunity to enjoy breakfast prepared by our colleague, HRA Senior Manager Zarina Arshad while immersing in the spectacular view of the morning sun glistening over Kuala Lumpur and the Klang Gates Dam, truly breathtaking!

We then started to climb down at 8.a.m. and reach the bottom slightly after 9 a.m.. And by that time, everyone started to look for a second breakfast to refuel our energy for the rest of the day.

Nature Outing at Sungai Pisang, Gombak, Selangor

On August 19th, 2015, a weekend outing to Sungai Pisang was jointly-initiated by Petal Tree Sdn Bhd and TPB, and it was also joined by staff of Albukhary Foundation. The program was coordinated by the organising team of Sg Pisang where they had prepared food and beverages, barbeque settings and activity schedule.

The outing started off with a one-hour jungle trekking and followed by abseiling. The day ends with a heavenly barbeque meals and wind down by splashing into the chilling water from the waterfall.

Being part of a big group such as the Albukhary Group, we are able to take this opportunity to run series of benefits in collaboration with our sister companies and all of our associated companies.

Beginning March 1st, 2016, two goodies were launched under the program:

Bernas rice at special price: The order form has been made available in the Corporate Communications Group in TPB Community. For PMAC, EMAC and Head Office, you may contact your respective offices for more information.

Spine and joint care: In partner with Spine & Joint (S&J) Specialists Clinic, a group of chiropractors (spine and joint specialist) and physiotherapists will provide spine and joint care at a discounted price throughout 14 clinics nationwide. Please note that TPB has pay and claim arrangement with S&J.

To start off, S&J shall extend a free spinal screening to you and your eligible family members. For now, you are required to get a letter from HR identifying you as an employee prior to your visit to the clinic until a staff card is issued. However, in order to qualify for the free screening, your presence is needed when accompanying your family member.

As part of our continuous awareness on spine and joint care, talks will be held quarterly by the S&J chiropractors and physiotherapists about keeping our spine and joints healthy. On top of that, they will also share tips on how to avoid neck strain while working at a computer and avoid other most computer-related injuries.

We encourage all staff to join us for the talks. Invitations will be sent out from time to time.

TRUE BLUE RUBBER MAN

Raja Azlan Raja Sulaiman is one of the few capable men that get to experience the daunting tasks of developing a rubber estate from the start. According to him, land development is the toughest part of his career as opening up the land area for the purpose of cultivating rubber would involve a lot of work e.g. land clearing, biomass management and disposal, earthworks, planting and re-planting. But that's the fun part", he said. "The experience is priceless"

En Raja Azlan has been involved in the plantation industry for 36 years. Over three decades of journey in the industry has earned him wide range of knowledge, not just in oil palm but rubber industry too.

Here's a chronology of his career path.

Johor Tenggara Oil Palm, JTOP

- 1979: started his career as a staff at a rubber nursery in Penawar Rubber Estate, Johor and involved in land development
- 1981: Sg Kachur Estate, Johor for phase two of land development oil palm estate.
- 1990: Ulu Papan Estate, Johor as Assistant Manager in charge of Rubber Division.
- 1998: Pelangi Estate, Johor as Assistant Manager during TPB's takeover from KLK Berhad.
- 2000: Sg Relai Estate, Kelantan as Assistant Manager.
- 2004: Ulu Papan Estate, Johor for re-planting of oil palm as Senior Assistant Manager and promoted to Acting Manager in October 2008.
- 2005: JTOP and TPB merged
- 2009: Sg Tekai Estate, Kedah as Manager.
- 2016 till current: TPB Headquarter as Manager of Task Force at CEO's Office

The father of five always has his heart in the plantation industry. Since he was a young adult, he would grow his own vegetables at home. And when he was working at the estates, he would grow vegetables like water spinach, bitter gourd and bok choy in his backyard of half an acre.

When he was in the midst of opening up a new land at Penawar Rubber Estate in 1979 (replanted with oil palm in 2000), En Raja recalls his experience when he has to build a makeshift shelter to stay temporarily while the land is being developed. It was in that very moment where his mind, body and soul were truly tested to get through challenging times.

"It was hard enough to get a shut-eye during rain," he said. "Let alone when there's flood, me and my team would be stranded in the estate up to two weeks, or at least till the water subsided, because there was no possible way to get in or out of the area due to uncharted road." Therefore, he added, they would stock up on rice, cans of sardines and eggs as much as possible. There were also several occasions of elephant attacks.

During free time, En Raja loves to go fishing, especially in deep water. At other times, he would be invited to be a guest speaker for one of RISDA's programs and being a part-time lecturer at Kolej RISDA to teach a subject related to high-tech exploitation of rubber.

Achievements

- Recipient of Best Employee Award from Johor Tenggara Oil Palm (1989, 1990)
- Recipient of National Production Council 3-Star Gold Award (1990, 1991, 1992)
- Recipient of Best Rubber Production (Sg Tekai Estate) from RISDA (2014)

STARTED CAREER IN LADANG SISEK SINCE BEFORE THE TAKEOVER BY TRADEWINDS

Mohd Fadzil Mohd Don | Field Conductor, Ladang Sisek Estate

En Fadzil has been involved in the oil palm plantation industry for over 30 years. He started his career in 1984 when he decided to join Johor Tenggara Oil Palm (JTOP) at Ladang Pertanian JTOP Sisek in Johor as a worker.

Sisek Estate, before it was developed into a beautiful oil palm plantation as you witness now, was used for cattle farming in which they had thousands of cows, while at the same time cultivating oil palm occupying roughly 200 hectares of land where only about 4 people were operating the estate.

After nearly four years of hard work and dedication, En Fadzil got promoted to be a mandor. During those years, he not only had to manage the oil palm plantation, but the cattle farm as well before the merger of Tradewinds Plantation Berhad and JTOP in 1995 to fully develop the land for oil palm cultivation. Being loyal to the company and committed to his job for several more years have earned him another promotion, to be a Field Conductor. Throughout his three decades of experience, he has undoubtedly gained a lot of knowledge about the operation, but there is only one thing that he cherishes the most.

"No matter where we work we must always put our hearts into it and be persistent in what we do. This is very important. For example, in the estate, we must manage it like it is our own. We must care for it because it is our responsibility as a worker. If every time I conduct spot-checks around the plantation I stumble upon even a single loose fruit, there were several times the loose fruits were in the ditch, without a second thought I would go and pick it up. Why, because I didn't want it to go to ## waste. We have to be honest in what we do, only then will it be blessed".

Tn Hj Fadzli, whose wife is also working in Sisek Estate as a clerk, has 6 children aged between 9 and 24 years old.

The new Dietary Guidelines: 5 steps to make healthy eating easier

The U.S. government's new Dietary Guidelines encourage us to make better decisions at the grocery store and while eating out. "Making small changes in food choices can add up to big health benefits and prevent diet-related chronic diseases," the announcement read. Including Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil in your diet is one of those small changes which can make a big difference. Unlike most oils, it's packed with nutrients and incredibly versatile. Palm oil makes healthy eating easy.

The Guidelines state that a healthy eating pattern includes fruits, vegetables, proteins, dairy, grains and oils. They also recommend these five strategies:

- Follow a healthy eating pattern across the lifespan. "All food and beverage choices matter." Make sure your toddler's crackers, your teen's PB and J and your husband's energy bar contribute to their health, not their waistline.
- Focus on variety, nutrient density and amount. "To meet nutrient needs within calorie limits, choose a variety of nutrient-dense foods across and within all food groups in the recommended amount." Some experts suggest replacing some of your current cooking oil with nutrientrich Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil. It's nature's richest source of vitamin E tocotrienols. Red palm oil also has 15 times more carotenoids than carrots.
- 3. Limit calories from added sugars and saturated fat, and reduce sodium intake. Nutrition labels may be changing to help us become smarter shoppers, such as requiring the declaration of added sugars and removing the outdated calories from fat information. The guidelines also suggest limiting trans fats, the heartharming ingredient the FDA is working to ban. As they reformulate products, many food manufacturers are turning to naturally trans-fat free Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil.
- 4. Shift to healthier food and beverage choices.

"Consider cultural and personal preferences to make these shifts easier to accomplish and maintain." The Guidelines don't insist you 'eat this, not that'. They recognize that you have interests and values. Non-GMO and sustainably produced Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil aligns with our nation's growing interest in natural foods. Like to grill? Palm oil is a smart choice for high-temperature cooking because it doesn't break down into harmful aldehydes.

5. Support healthy eating patterns for all. "Everyone has a role in helping to create and support healthy eating patterns in multiple settings nationwide, from home to school to work to communities." Now that you know about Malaysian sustainable palm oil, spread the word about this healthy cooking oil.

Make 2016 the year you switch to a healthier cooking oil

by Chef Gerard Viverito

If you want to make better nutritional choices in the new year, you are in good company. Living a healthier lifestyle is one of the most common New Year's resolutions. When I appeared on Oregon's KUIK radio, I shared simple ways you can accomplish this goal, such as switching to a healthier cooking oil. Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil is a favorite because it has more nutrients than more commonly used cooking oils. It also aligns with another goal of mine, caring for our planet.

Some edible oils are harmful

In 2015, the Food and Drug Administration issued an order limiting trans fats from processed foods. This is great news, since this factory-made fat is bad for your cardiovascular system. Unfortunately, the FDA has given food manufacturers until 2018 to update their recipes. It also currently allows food producers to claim a product is trans fat-free, even if it contains up to 0.5 grams of trans fat per serving. You must read labels to ensure your foods are free of this harmful ingredient. Avoid products which contain partially hydrogenated oils, the primary source of trans fats.

Choose oils which benefit your health

There are many cooking oils on the market. Some have limited nutritional value. Choose oils which support your health. Olive oil is heart-healthy. Other healthier cooking oils include avocado oil, almond oil and Malaysian certified sustainable palm oil. I learned about palm oil when I lived in Southeast Asia. This orange-red oil looks similar to carrot juice. It's rich in beta carotene and brain- and skin-supporting vitamin E tocotrienols. It's also non-GMO and naturally trans fat-free. This is why palm oil is increasingly being used as a wholesome substitute for hydrogenated oils.

Consider the planet when making food choices Whether your shop at a big-box store or a farmer's market, think about how your food choices affect the planet. For example, a chicken raised on organic feed is less taxing on the planet, because of reduced pesticide and herbicide use. Perennial food crops, such as Malaysian sustainable palm oil, are better for the planet. Oil palm plantations are also incredibly land-efficient. Per acre of land, oil palm produces 11 times more oil than soybean, and seven times more than canola.

READ PROGRAMME

Read Programme is a nationwide movement to inculcate reading habit among primary school students in Malaysia for English Language. The programme, among others, is also to improve their proficiency in English by enhancing their ability to understand and communicate using the language confidently.

Launched in March 2015, Albukhary Foundation initiated the programme to tackle the problem among most young Malaysians as it is proven through a research (International Journal of Research in Social Science, Vol. 3, 2014) that Malaysians are poor readers in which most are students who only read books for examinations rather than for knowledge and pleasure.

Read Programme is aimed at primary school students between the age of 7 and 12 and classes are held once a week. There are two programme cycles in a year and each cycle will consist of 12 sessions. There are four stages throughout the whole programme: Alphabet Level, Words Level, Paragraph Level and Storytelling Level.

The students are assigned to a 1-hour-30-minute reading time that are inclusive of three methods: mentor reads to students, mentor reads together with students, and students read to mentor. For every 5 children, 1 mentor will be appointed to facilitate and guide their reading.

During the pilot stage, Read Alor Setar saw a 74% success rate out of their total participants whereas Muadzam Shah has 78% success rate which allows the students to advance to the next level. Meanwhile the Malacca is yet to produce any result as the program is on going.

More Oxygen to the Air

Oil palm trees are unique in a way that they have higher leaf area index that allows them to have better photosynthetic efficiency. This results in the palm trees to produce more oxygen to the air and absorb more carbon dioxide from the atmosphere. A study has shown that an oil palm tree has a leaf area index of 5.6 which is comparable to that of the rainforests.

Alleviating Global Warming

An oil palm plantation with its perennial green cover and closed canopy displays the main features of a tropical rainforest. It is also a more efficient carbon sink than a tropical rainforest and helps absorb greenhouse gases. A study has shown that an oil palm plantation assimilates 44.0 tonnes of dry matter per hectare per year compared to 25.7 tonnes of dry matter per hectare per year a rainforest assimilates.

Interestingly, dry matter production remains high throughout the entire 25-year economic life cycle of oil palm trees. In Malaysia, oil palm is grown on about 56% of agricultural land, occupying some 11.75% of the country's total land areas. However, the current areas under oil palm plantations are within the limit of the allocated hectares permitted under the National Agricultural Plan 3 (NAP 3) 2000-2010.
